

Karachi Edition

A lost bag

A PIA plane bound for Lahore from Islamabad had to return in mid-air because a female traveller of the singing variety had forgotten her purse in the departure lounge of the Islamabad airport. Rarely ever does a plane divert for a reason as trivial as this. I blame neither PIA nor the singer but the other passengers who didn't raise their voice against what happened.

Maj (r) Surkhab Pasha
Chakwal